Create a Symetri User ID

- You can create a new account when you are asked to log in.
- Accounts can also be created for multiple users by the license administrator at your company using the new Symetri License portal. See below.
  First time you start Revit after installing Naviate 2022 you will be prompted to log in. Either create an account, use existing account for Naviate.com or an account that License administrator at your company has created for you.
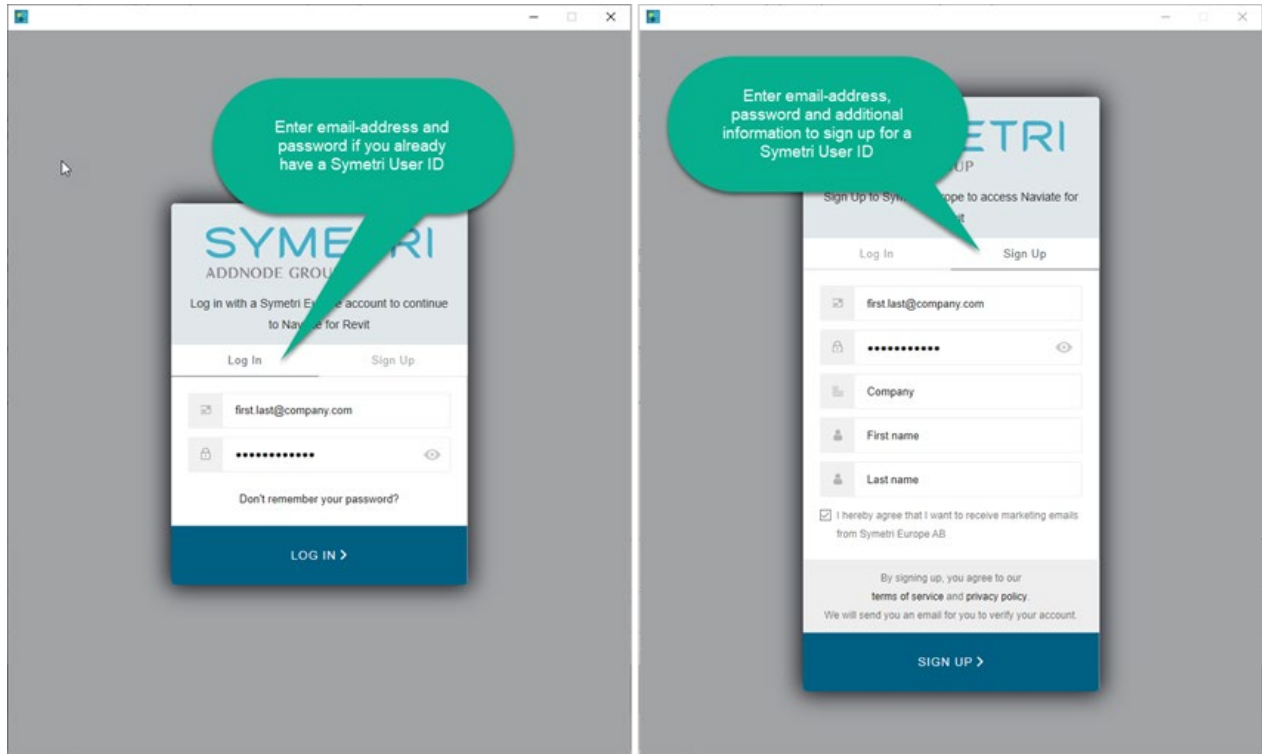

The account you use will determine which of the installed Naviate applications you will have access to use. If no license is assigned to your account for an installed application you are asked to start a 1-month trial once.

How to Access and use Naviate for Revit licenses on 2022 version 1.0
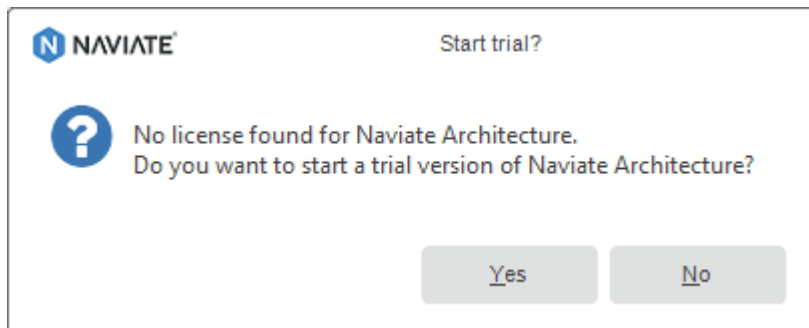

You will be remembered on the computer you log in on until you logout from Naviate. You will not need to login every time you start Naviate. After a long period of inactivity, you might need to enter your password again when starting Naviate.

You need to have internet access to create an account, log in and activate your license(s). After that you can run Naviate without internet access depending on your license type, see below.

You can use Revit without logging in to Naviate. The Naviate applications you have installed will be disabled. Click on "X" button when asked to log in.

You can see who is logged in to Naviate and log out from the Help ribbon. You activate the Help ribbon from the Help button in each application ribbon.
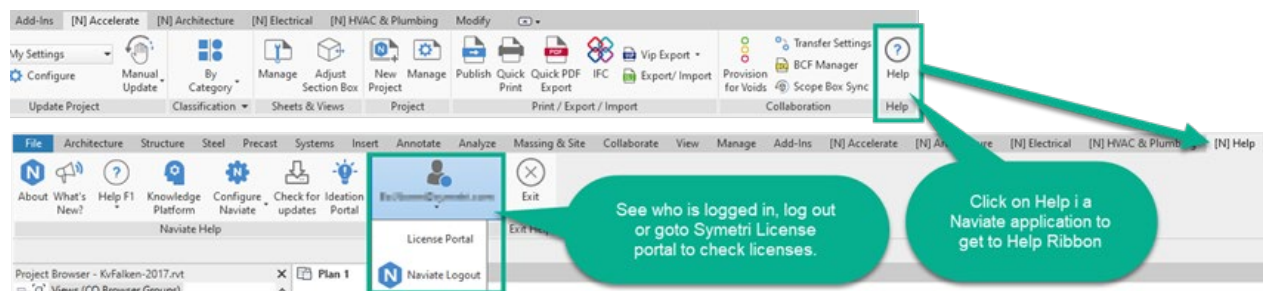

Note! Naviate Rebar Extension will not require a Symetri account. It doesn't require a license to run.

Naviate licensing system

We have now a user based licensing of all Naviate applications and a new License Portal for user and license management.

Naviate 2022 applications uses a new licensing system based on the Symetri User ID. The Naviate licenses you have bought have to be assigned to user accounts (Symetri User IDs). This is managed in the new Symetri License portal.

If you have purchased Naviate licenses; you use the Symetri License portal to assign licenses to users. You need to be an administrator in the Symetri License Portal to do this. One person in your company (the contract administrator) has this access but it can be added to multiple users. Read more about the Symetri License portal below. See below.

You also have an option to start a trial period for 1 month for applications you install but don't have a license for.

The new licensing system support Single user, Multi-user and Trial licenses.

Single-user license

- The single user license is personal.
- A single user license is assigned to one Symetri user account.
- It can be used off-line once activated.
- The offline period is maximum 1 month without need for being online.
- You can have the single user license activated on two computers, but you are not allowed to use them simultaneously.
- It is possible to deactivate the license on computers and active on other computers.
- The license is time-restricted based on your contract and is automatically updated when renewed.

Multi-user license

- A Multi-user license can be assigned to multiple Symetri user accounts.
- All users assigned to the license share a pool of seats.
- A seat is taken from the pool when you run a Naviate tool for that application (or when running a tool in Naviate Accelerate).
- If all seats are taken by other users, you will not be able to run the tool until a seat has been returned to the pool.
- A seat is returned when ending Revit/Naviate or when logging out from Naviate.
- You must have an internet connection to use multi-user licenses.
- The license is time-restricted based on your contract and is automatically updated when renewed.

Trial license

If you have installed a Naviate application that you don't have a license for you will be asked to start a Trial. The Trial is valid for 1 month and can be activated once per computer. Once you have started a Trial you can use the Naviate application off-line during the trial period.

If you answer No when asked to start a trial, you will not be asked again when starting Naviate unless you logout and restart Naviate.
